

Summer Term, 2010

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to the summer term update to the 2010/11 academic year Day Release Project. By now your alternative curricula co-ordinator will have made you aware of this programme of study, due to commence in September 2010.

Day Release Project: Students who perhaps lack focus in school environments and whom without focused support would struggle to achieve qualification(s) and follow a positive Post 16 destination (of which they are more than capable of). These students may not be ready for, or suit a large and distracting college campus

In summary, the Day Release project:

- is available for Year 11 students for one academic day per week
- is available to a maximum of ten Year 11 students per day
- completes one credit-based qualification per student
- completes functional Maths and English per student
- completes a Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award per student
- includes full breakfast and lunch meals
- includes a (more casual) school uniform

I am now in the position to confirm both the 2010/11 Learn2 term dates as the following:

Monday 6th September – Friday 22nd October
 Tuesday 4th January – Friday 18th February
 Tuesday 26th April – Friday 27th May

Monday 1st November – Friday 17th December
 Monday 28th February – Friday 8th April

In addition, I can reveal the QCF diploma that shall be completed will be the NOCN Skills Towards Enabling Progression (STEP-UP) at level one. Further details can be found at www.nocn.org.uk.

In closing, I hope you will look forward to your May 4th Day Release Project update, where I will be in the exciting position to reveal not only the planned units of study for completion, but also the number of remaining project places available.

Best of luck with the Year 11 exam preparations.

Yours faithfully,
